Citation Policy 101: How to submit a quote, press release, or other usage request

Were you recently identified in an Aragon Research Globe, Tech Spectrum, Hot Vendor, or other report and want to announce this via a blog, press release, or other format? Email your request to: quote.requests@aragonresearch.com

- To receive approval for report quotations, you must have legitimate access to the Aragon Research published research you are quoting. This means you must be an Aragon Client or quote from a Licensed Reprint.
- If you do not have access to the research, please look at our Hot Vendor template example, which details how to format a press release without quotations no matter what type of report you are identified in.
- Please include your draft materials (i.e. your press release, landing page, blog

Turnaround time: Please allow up to two (2) business days for review. Note: Requests that involve analysts may take longer.

Policy Essentials

- a. To receive approval, you must have legitimate access to the Aragon Research published research you are quoting. This means you must be an Aragon Client or quote from a Licensed Reprint.
- b. Quotes, excerpts, references and graphics must be attributed to 1) research published on aragonresearch.com, 2) an Aragon Research press release or 3) an Aragon Research presentation. All content types must be less than 12 months old.
- c. Quotes that are lifted from the media or third-party sources are not allowed.
 - a. Media outlets are not required to approve material that references us, though we will contact them if we feel Aragon Research is misrepresented or misquoted. We cannot validate the validity of third party quotations and so the quote must be attributed to Aragon Research directly, which we can then validate.
- d. All excerpts must be lifted verbatim, in their entirety, and appear accurately with all relevant context. Paraphrasing is not allowed.
- e. Company, product, or services-specific quotes are strictly prohibited.
 - a. This rule is designed to protect Aragon's objectivity and neutrality. When company, product, or service specific quotes are included in a technology provider's marketing materials, there is an appearance of endorsement. While we acknowledge the quote as it appears within the published research, when used within your marketing initiatives – and outside the context of the full, comprehensive report – the objective nature of our research is compromised. This type of use negatively impacts Aragon's integrity.
- f. The Aragon Research brand may not be used to endorse a vendor, product or service, or to criticize a vendor's competitor.
- g. Aragon Technology Provider Clients may request a quote from the Analyst who is the author of the Research Note. Informal comments made by analysts may not be quoted. All quote requests must be sent to quote.requests@aragonresearch.com
- h. Only quote from published research that is less than 12 months old. Note: older research should not be quoted.
- i. No more than 10% of a published Aragon Research document may be excerpted for use in any client document.
- j. No more than 30% of your document or promotional materials (including booth signage) may consist of Aragon Research published research or references.
- k. To include an industry-general graphic or table from a published research document, it must be shown in its entirety without any changes to the graphic.

- l. Vendor-specific graphics or tables that reflect product or service rating, ranking, recognition or positioning may be excerpted from reports, as well as "branded" research. No other vendor-specific content may be excerpted.
- m. The Aragon Research name, Aragon Research Logos and/or published research references may not appear in corporate boilerplates and/or email signature stamps.
- n. You may display Aragon Research content alongside Aragon Research competitor content only in a simple listing of source reports that recognizes your product or service, with links to these reports.
- o. Aragon Research does not allow promotion on third-party websites deemed competitive to Aragon Research.

Basics of Copyright Law

Copyrights protect original works of authorship. The types of works covered by copyright vary widely, from literary works such as books, poems, technical manuals, or software code, to audiovisual works, musical works or works of fine art. Only the copyright owner of a work, or someone who has the copyright owner's permission, may (1) make copies of the work; (2) create adaptations ("derivative works") based on the work; (3) distribute copies of the work; (4) perform the work publicly; or (5) display the work publicly. These are referred to as the "exclusive rights" of a copyright owner.

Copyright protection attaches to a newly created work as soon as it is "fixed in a tangible medium of expression". For example, spoken words alone, such as a speech delivered extemporaneously that is not written down, would not be protected by copyright because it is not "fixed in a tangible medium." Works do not have to be registered with the U.S. Copyright Office, and do not have to display a copyright notice, in order to enjoy copyright protection.

The United States and most of the industrialized world are parties to the Berne Copyright Convention, which means that each member country will respect and enforce the copyrights that originate in other member states.

Virtually all of Aragon Research's published research is protected by copyright, whether in printed or electronic form.

Re-licensed Content

Print or Web Reprints

Aragon Research sells reprints of most of its published research. Purchased reprints may be provided in their entirety for your internal associates, customers or business prospects. Use of reprints is subject to Aragon Research's Reprint Agreement terms and conditions. Aragon Research must pre-approve the marketing or promotional verbiage that advertises the availability of reprints, which is subject to the parameters outlined in this Policy. To purchase reprints, please contact reprints@aragonresearch.com

NOTE: Company-, product-, or services-specific research reports are not eligible for external licensing by competing technology providers (that is, you may not use this research as a "weapon" against a competitor).

Multimedia Products

Quoting of Aragon Research published research via any Multimedia product must clearly indicate that the contents include or feature Aragon Research. All promotional materials and packaging must reflect this emphasis. Aragon Research must pre-approve the marketing or promotional verbiage related to these products. The Aragon Research logo may not appear next to a vendor logo.

Violations

If you fail to comply with this policy, Aragon Research reserves the right to take appropriate steps to address violations. For instance, an immediate quote ban and reprints black-out of up to three months may be imposed in the event that:

- You have shared text, graphics or made ANY reference to DRAFT Aragon Research reports externally, or with anyone in your organization outside of the small group of fact review participants.
- You use Aragon Research published research or references in an earnings call or earnings announcement/press release that has not been pre-approved by Aragon Research Quote Requests.

Other actions include, but are not limited to:

- A company-wide email distributed to all associates as a reminder of their contractual obligation to follow Aragon Research Policy.
- A "correction" email issued to external recipients of a non-compliant email communication along with a required compliance copy provided to Aragon Research to ensure execution.
- Stop allowing Aragon Research analysts to be listed as press contacts.

Aragon Research may seek additional remedies available under contract, trademark, copyright and other applicable law.

Frequently Asked Questions

1. Are Aragon Research analysts and sales reps authorized to approve my external-use request?

No. Only a member of the Aragon Research Quote Requests team may approve external use requests. To get approval, please email quote.requests@aragonresearch.com

2. Why doesn't Aragon Research allow company-specific quotes to be used?
Company-specific quotes may appear endorsing when used outside their original context and in vendor materials and compromises Aragon Research's integrity and objectivity.
3. Why can't I include the Aragon Research logo, reference to Aragon Research published research or a link to our licensed reprint in my email signature?
The reason for this parameter is to disassociate Aragon Research's branding from vendors' branding, which is represented by email signature stamps. We consider everything under the closing salutation of your email to represent your company's branding. We encourage you to promote a licensed reprint or research recognition, but not through your corporate email signature stamp.
4. I have an urgent external-use request. Can you turn around my request in less than two business days?
We try to honor these requests and try to approve all quote requests as quickly as possible, but we ask that you incorporate two business days in your planning.
5. Why do I need to purchase reprint distribution rights for some graphics and not others?
Vendors typically use Globe, Hot Vendor, SWOT, and Vendor Power Rating research for marketing purposes, and we want to ensure the entire document is available as background information to the graphic so that the full context of the analysis is available to the audience.
6. Can I quote from Aragon Research documents that are over 12 months old?
This is treated on a case-by-case basis and is at the discretion of quote.requests@aragonresearch.com. If there is more up to date research, the request to quote from an older document will not be approved.
